

Serengeti Wildlife & Walking Adventure

Min 2 passengers / Max 6 passengers | 7 nights' comfortable camping / 3 nights' accommodation

The highlight of this safari is exploring remote areas of the Serengeti on foot. Usually one of the busiest parks in Africa, you will view it surrounded by peace and quiet, allowing your guide to enhance your experience with his passion of the bush and expert knowledge. Combine this unique activity with time seeking out predators and driving through herds of plains game by safari vehicle in the Ngorongoro Crater and Lake Manyara National Park; staying in a mix of comfortable private camps and high-quality lodges. There's also time to really get to grips with Tanzania through insightful introductions to different cultures and rural life.

Day 1 Flight to Tanzania

Depart in the evening from London for your overnight flight to Kilimanjaro.

Day 2 Arusha

Spend the night at Rivertrees Country Inn – a lovely lodge on the outskirts of Arusha. There is a swimming pool here where you can relax after the long flight, but if you are feeling energetic you can explore the town or do a little horse riding.

Day 5 Manyara Area

Game-drive slowly out of Lake Manyara National Park, reaching the gate around midday. For lunch today, enjoy a truly Tanzanian experience by stopping in a village on a banana plantation. Try a few local dishes in a welcoming and traditional environment. Then drive up onto the Rift Valley escarpment to Rothia Valley Lodge – your accommodation for the night. All of the proceeds of your stay here go towards a children's home situated close to the lodge.

Day 6 Ngorongoro Crater

Journey up through the Crater forests and onto its rim from where the surrounding views are stunning. Continue down onto the Crater floor for a game drive. This is a spectacular sight scenically and home to over 30,000 animals! The wildlife viewing here is phenomenal and the animals are very relaxed. In the afternoon you continue on to Serengeti National Park and Ndutu Lodge where you spend the night.

Days 7 - 10 Serengeti Walking Camp

An early morning game drive takes you out to the wilderness walking area and your campsite – where there are no roads at all. Spend the next few days on a walking safari adventure with a highly trained and experienced guide. The guide will set the pace of each walk according to the group – though you won't usually cover more than 10km a day. These walks are not meant to be strenuous. Rather they are about absorbing what is going on around you, learning about nature on a more intimate level than you can do by vehicle.

Day 11 Serengeti

Game drive into the central Serengeti where there is phenomenal wildlife viewing and where the game is so relaxed that it will even use vehicles for shade! Spend a full afternoon exploring the area, looking out for the abundant predators that make this area so famous. The early evening is prime time to see them being active, moving between areas and possibly even hunting. Overnight at a comfortable tented camp.

Day 12 Flight to London

Enjoy a last game drive before boarding a light aircraft to Kilimanjaro Airport. There is time to freshen up at a hotel nearby before your flight home.

Alternatively, instead of returning straight home after your walking and wildlife safari, you may wish to relax on one of Tanzania's beaches for a bit. If so, then consider one of our tailor-made Expert Africa beach add-on trips to Zanzibar, Pemba, Ras Kutani or the Mafia Archipelago. Call us to ask about this and to get a possible quote.

Day 13 Arrive in London

Days 3 & 4 Lake Manyara

Travel by road to Lake Manyara National Park where the Rift Valley Escarpment soars up on one side and Lake Manyara spreads out on the other. Look out for elephant, giraffe, zebra and other wildlife to be found here on your way to the camp. The camp team will already be here and have set up your spacious dome tents, the mess tent and made a start on dinner. It's up early the following morning to spend a full day exploring the park with the option of a night drive after dark.
